

Intern – Clean Energy Finance

The North Carolina Clean Energy Fund (NCCEF) is seeking a Finance Intern to support the Co-Directors in the analysis of finance solutions for clean energy and efficiency. NCCEF is a nonprofit financial institution with a mission to accelerate investment in clean and efficient energy solutions and increase climate resilience in North and South Carolina, particularly to promote climate and economic equity. We partner with public and private investors, foundations, and other non-profit and community organizations to deploy sustainable financing solutions that will create long-lasting environmental, economic, and social benefits and fill gaps in the financial market, especially for traditionally underserved communities.

Position Summary

The Finance Intern will assist Co-Directors with special projects related to pilots and new financial models to fill gaps in the current marketplace. These might include areas such as energy efficiency investments for nonprofits, or solar and battery storage solutions for commercial or community buildings. Needs on these projects include market analysis, strategic planning, financial modeling, and marketing/outreach plans. The Co-Directors will work with the Finance Intern to define the scope of work in conjunction with the intern's specific skills and interests.

Qualifications

- Graduate Student (MBA, MPP, MEM, MPH or similar)
- Proficiency in Excel
- Experience in financial analysis
- Excellent communication skills – verbal and written

Proposed Start – End Date

10-week internship with flexible hours between the dates of May 19 – August 8 based on availability and the university schedule

Stipend – $10,000 paid bi-weekly

How to Apply:
